Conversations in the community

This online course, facilitated by Mind, will help you to build confidence in how to have conversations about mental health and wellbeing and to be there for others in your community.

It won't make you a mental health professional – but you don't need to be a professional to be there for the people around you!

Benefits of this course include:

- It's FREE for anyone to do
- It's online so you can do it from anywhere
- It takes about 90 minutes in total, but you can leave to take breaks and it will save your progress
- It contains video examples of people talking, and practice scenarios for you to try
- It's self-guided – there's no tests! no one will assess you
- It's been co-produced with people who have experience of mental health problems.

Email involved@nottinghamcity.gov.uk for details.

Domestic abuse and safeguarding

Own my life

A 12 week programme. Tuesdays and Fridays 10am to 11.30am at the Sherwood Community Centre, Mansfield Road.

Suitable for women in abusive relationships or those who have left an abusive relationship, or the perpetrator has been removed. Childcare spaces also available.

The course explores how you can regain ownership of your life following abuse, including owning our mind, body, choices, relationships, world and feelings.

We will explore the culture of abuse and violence, misogyny and disrespect in relationships.

All women who attend will be given an Own My life Journal that provides space for reflective practice and includes all the information provided throughout the course.

Email involved@nottinghamcity.gov.uk for more information.

Power of change

Tuesdays and Fridays, 10am to 11.30am at The Sherwood Community Centre, Mansfield Road.

This programme is more suited to women who are no longer in an abusive relationship and not with a perpetrator. Childcare spaces also available.

This course covers the topics of:

- basic rights as women
- why is it so hard to leave?

There are sessions on boundaries, coping with grief, fear and guilt and anger. Dealing with requests and authority figures and using assertiveness skills.

We will identify the differences between healthy and unhealthy relationships, distinguish between healthy and unhealthy forms of conflict, and gain an understanding of the lack of realism in stereotypical representations of romantic love.

The final session will be around:

- endings and new beginnings.

Email involved@nottinghamcity.gov.uk to find out more.

The Freedom Programme

Tuesdays and Fridays, 10am to 11.30am at The Sherwood Community Centre, Mansfield Road

A 10 week course that explores the tactics used by an abusive person. We will examine the attitudes and beliefs of abusers and the responses of victims and survivors.

The Freedom Programme also describes in detail how children are affected by being exposed to this kind of abuse and very importantly how their lives are improved when the abuse is removed.

Childcare spaces available.

Email involved@nottinghamcity.gov.uk.

Safeguarding

A range of online training courses are available, giving you a basic understanding of the roles and responsibilities when it comes to safeguarding, including:

Music production

Beatknots Music Academy 2023/24

Funded by the Youth Music Foundation, the Beatknots Music Academy works collaboratively across four studio locations across Nottingham and Nottinghamshire. Over three years the Beatknots Project will offer 150 places to young people.

Working with some amazing partners, you'll get the chance to record, produce, perform, and release your own music, while gaining first-hand music industry experience.

We will offer regular live performance opportunities, music leader traineeships, industry masterclasses, and opportunities to launch and release music through the establishment of our very own youth-led Beatknots Record Label.

Everybody taking part will be given the chance to take part in nationally recognised accredited courses built around five exciting academies:

- A Record Label Academy
- Vocal Academy
- Music Production Academy
- Instrument Academy
- DJ Academy.

For the first year of the project we're looking to reach out to 50 young people aged 14 to 18 years old (up to 25 with additional needs).

To sign up, email involved@nottinghamcity.gov.uk using Beatknots in the subject title and please include in your email:

- your name
- age
- address
- contact number of a parent / guardian
- and tell us a bit about your musical journey so far, why you'd like to take part and which of the five academies you're interested in.

If you are employed and have low confidence when using numbers at work; Multiply for Work could be the right support for you as an individual or your team as a whole. To know more email: Multiply@Nottinghamcity.gov.uk

WHAT LEARNERS HAVE TO SAY ABOUT MULTIPLY?

IndependentYou - Delivered by Second Chance Learning Academy
"I think maths, money, and finances, can all seem so daunting. The IndependentYou course has made me realise this is not the case and that through learning there are many things I can do to improve my finances. Harriet was great at teaching and nothing felt overwhelming. I really appreciated how she went away each week and researched any of the questions we had. I especially liked the activity of comparing the costs of different public travel options. I definitely feel I have more knowledge on my money now."
